Performance Marketing That Actually Performs

In a market flooded with agencies that run ads and call it marketing, Obii Kriationz takes a fundamentally different approach: every campaign begins with a business objective, not a budget allocation. The firm's digital marketing practice is built on three interconnected layers — paid media, influencer amplification, and organic discovery — designed to work together and compound results over time.

In today's trust economy, people don't just buy products or services — they buy people. They buy the story, the scars, and the vision of the person who built the company. This is the philosophy behind Obii Kriationz's Founder Branding practice. The outcome is a founder who is not just known, but sought after — by clients, partners, investors, and media alike.

Every Brand Has a Story. Not Every Brand Knows How to Tell It. Audio is intimate. When someone puts on headphones and listens to a conversation, they let that voice into their mind in a way no banner ad ever could. A podcast episode is not a 30-second ad — it is a 30- to 60-minute immersive brand experience. It signals credibility, builds community, and creates a searchable, evergreen content archive. When paired with Obii Kriationz's content repurposing engine, a single podcast session generates content across audio, video, written, and social formats simultaneously.

10 MOST PROMISING MINIMUM VIABLE PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT COMPANIES - 2024

OBII KRIATIONZ:

Shaping the Digital Landscape through Cutting-edge Solutions & Services

In the fast-paced world of tech startups and digital innovation, the Minimum Viable Product (MVP) concept has emerged as a cornerstone of successful product development strategies. MVP Development is not just about building a product; it's about validating a business idea with minimal resources and gathering actionable feedback from real users. Navigating through the ever-evolving landscape of this industry requires a strategic approach that encompasses rapid prototyping, lean development, and user-centric design.

Obii Kriationz stands out in the MVP Development space for several reasons, each contributing to its ability to help clients navigate the complexities of bringing new products to market. Founded in 2009 (as KRIATIONZ) in the vibrant tech hub of Bengaluru, India, Obii Kriationz has been a trailblazer in digital evolution, assisting businesses worldwide in harnessing the power of technology to drive amidst the constant changes in the business landscape.

"At Obii Kriationz, our core objective is to empower startups across their entire product lifecycle journey through expertise and excellence. From the initial stages of ideation and discovery to the pivotal MVP development phase, we ensure flexibility and adaptability to meet unique needs. Embracing a design thinking posture, we validate ideas on multiple fronts, progressing to creating a tangible, lean version of the product. Our consistent extends beyond development to defining the value proposition, setting up the launch, defining Minimum criteria for success, Collecting and Analyzing Feedback, and continuous learning", speaks Abhinav Chandra Mohan, Founder and Managing Partner of Obii Kriationz.

At the heart of Obii Kriationz's MVP development strategy lies a deep-rooted commitment to agile methodologies. This iterative and incremental approach to product development ensures that MVPs are built quickly and aligned with the target market's evolving needs. By embracing agile practices, Obii Kriationz facilitates a collaborative environment where feedback is continuously integrated into the development process, allowing for real-time adjustments and enhancements.

Obii Kriationz is at the forefront of debunking the myth that Agile methodologies are reserved for large businesses. In reality, the principles of Agile—flexibility, responsiveness to change, and a focus on delivering value—are particularly well-suited to the dynamic and fluid nature of startups. By guiding startups through Agile adoption, Obii Kriationz empowers these nimble entities to harness the full potential of Agile practices.

"Understanding and addressing the end-user's needs is critical for any product's success. At Obii Kriationz, we excel in employing a customer-centric design philosophy, ensuring that MVPs are minimal and viable from the user's perspective. This involves engaging with internal and external stakeholders early and often, incorporating their feedback to refine the product's value proposition. Such an approach validates the product idea and builds a foundation for a development that resonates well with its intended audience", says Abhinav Chandra Mohan.

The efficacy of Obii Kriationz's approach to MVP development is best illustrated through its portfolio of success stories and client testimonials. Startups and established businesses alike have benefited from the company's expertise, launching products that have not only validated their market hypotheses but also laid the groundwork for future growth and innovation.

Obii Kriationz's impact extends across various industries, including e-Commerce, FinTech, iEdTech, Rental, and HealthTech. By helping clients in these diverse sectors validate products and deliver value, the company has demonstrated its versatility and expertise in addressing unique market challenges and opportunities. One another success story that Abhinav proudly narrates is his threat with a government body and how Team Obii Kriationz helped this beholden organization create a paperless tax collection portal that allowed the organization to streamline tax collection and made the whole process seamless for the citizens.

"Our ethos is driven by Empathy. Our quest for excellence stems from our ability to empathize with our customers, stakeholders, end users, and humanity on the whole", concludes Abhinav.
